EDUCATIONAL LEARNING MODULES

The Educational Learning Modules are a continuum of the PAHx Society's efforts to make the history of the PA profession come alive and be meaningful and inspirational for future generations of physician assistants. It is made possible by a long-standing partnership of the PAHx Society with the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA), the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA) the Physician Assistant Education Association (PAEA) and the Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant (ARC-PA). The scope and content of the Educational Learning Modules has and continues to be enriched by collaborations with the Duke University Medical Center Archives (DUMC) and the Society's growing
